URBAN SEARCH and RESCUE (USAR) RESPONSE AGREEMENT

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2015

The Urban Search and Rescue (USAR) organizational module is designed to provide supervision and control of essential functions at incidents where technical rescue expertise and equipment are required for safe and effective rescue operations. USAR operations are unique in that specialized training and equipment are required to mitigate the incident in the safest and most efficient manner possible. Initial USAR operations will be directed by the first arriving public safety officer who will assume command as the Incident Commander. Subsequent changes in the incident command structure will be based on the resource and management needs of the incident following established ICS procedures. Additional resources may include USAR Companies and USAR Crews or modular component of other USAR assets specifically trained and equipped for urban search and rescue operations. The USAR Company is capable of conducting search and rescue operations at incidents where technical expertise and equipment are required. USAR Crews are trained urban search and rescue personnel dispatched to the incident without rescue equipment. USAR Companies and Crews can be assigned as a single resource, grouped to form USAR Strike Teams or added to other resources to form a Task Force. USAR Single Resources, Strike Teams, and Task Forces are managed the same as other incident resources. Due to the unique hazards and complexity of urban search and technical rescue incidents, the Incident Commander may need to request a wide variety and amount of multidisciplinary resources.

WHEREAS, investigation has disclosed that it would be of mutual benefit to each party in some circumstances if, mutually, the services of the fire department of one party were extended territorially to the aid of the other party; and

WHEREAS, the use of closest resource dispatching of rescue, medical, or other emergency without regard to jurisdiction or statutory responsibility is in the best interest of the citizens to insure orderly and coordinated use of all resources; and

WHEREAS, the need for organized specific skills, equipment, and training is needed for Urban Search and Rescue (USAR) to serve our citizens and visitors to El Dorado County,

WHEREAS, each party hereto is agreeable to providing the requested initial action response within the territorial limits of the other party, and by this memorandum, the parties desire to integrate the terms and conditions of their negotiated master mutual aid agreement; and
